Figure S2.—Point mutations of TS-intein alleles. Mutations are shown as amino acid changes. For example, “W157R” means that the 157th amino acid, tryptophan, is mutated to arginine. The yellow and red dots are the two point mutations in TS19. Note that mutations are distributed throughout the entire length of Sce VMA.