

FIGURE S1.—Density of pairwise LD in the CEPH population measured in r^2 . A sliding window of 100 SNPs was used. The dark blue line is the density for the whole data, the green line is the density for the LD reduced data and the light blue line is the density for the whole data when the position labels were permuted.