

Figure S2: Simulations run under different combinations of τ and σ (in black), and the inferred combinations of parameters for each simulated dataset (red). All simulations here were run under the process.